His charges are somewhat onerous-twentyfive per cent. premium-but he gives ample security for the fulfillment of his obligations. He has even recovered stolen property at the same rate, and as he is usually privy to the circumstances of any large robbery, he is said to drive a thriving business in this line. If you wish to see him on business, address him a line and he will grant you a rendezvous, where you must meet him unarmed. His ear is open to offers for his services, and he finds his account in guarantying the safe conduct of goods to Monterey. A thriving, patriotic, convenient fellow, is this Canales.

FATETTEVILLE-October 30th.-The market this week has been remarkably dull. Little or no produce arriving. Cotton is on the decline as will be seen, 84 being the highest mark. We cannot account for this lack of trade, except it be caused by the dry weather. There has not been rain enough to lay the dust, for several weeks. Still the river is in good bosting order, and large quantities of goods arriving, for this place and the interior .- North Carol nian.
